

Risk Consulting.

Expert guidance to help your business become safer, stronger, and more resilient.

Why it matters.

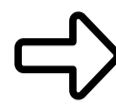

Proactive risk management is good for business and the bottom line.

Reduces
loss, disruption,
and volatility.

Supports stronger decisions and long-term resilience.

Drives
fewer and less severe claims over time.

What we do.

Complex, multinational operations need expert guidance and a team that's easy to work with. With deep local relationships and a genuine global reach, we tailor our approach to your business and aim to deliver practical, meaningful solutions.

01

Manage your risk profile.

Help improve resilience, and reduce claim frequency and severity of loss.

02

Inform your decisions.

Understand the likelihood and impact of risks on your operations.

03

Prioritise your spend.

Give bespoke advice on loss prevention measures and where to invest in risk management improvements.

04

Embed risk culture.

Build risk management into how your business operates.

05

Share insights.

Offer seminars on emerging trends, technical learning, and best practice.

Our specialisms.

Casualty.

Property.

Marine.

Power & Renewables.

Specialists who understand real-world risk.

Our experience is drawn from industry as well as insurance risk engineering.

Our team spans multiple disciplines - engineers, safety practitioners, business continuity, fleet, and marine experts.

This breadth ensures we can provide deep technical insight tailored to client needs.

We work alongside your own team, complementing the skills you already have in-house.

We offer local relationships and global reach with risk consultants and third-party partners worldwide.

Scaling our approach to how you work.

Tailored to you.

Your dedicated account consultant coordinates your risk engineering programme - from risk improvements to project reviews. With hands-on involvement in the field work, they'll have a thorough grasp of your risks and requirements.

Integrated service.

A defined service team working alongside underwriting and claims, so you get a familiar, consistent experience with no gaps.

Flexible approach.

We recommend practical, cost-effective improvements - and can work to international standards or advocate alternatives that better suit your business.

RED: a clearer view of complex risk data.

A portal for brokers and businesses to access portfolio analysis, real-time risk data and risk assessment - all in one place. This supports continuous risk improvements for property lead clients.

Supporting brokers and businesses.

We work closely with brokers and customers to support better conversations about risk, helping to build safer, stronger, and more resilient businesses.

What next?

To find out how Risk Consulting can support you, visit:

intactinsurance.co.uk/risk-consulting